

Il Progetto

Il Progetto "Italia-Libia. Donne amministratrici locali-Azioni di sostegno e formazione alle donne libiche impegnate nelle comunità locali, per migliorare la governance territoriale e per costruire dal basso democrazia e sviluppo" si colloca nell'ambito delle iniziative del MAECI e di altre importanti Istituzioni italiane orientate a incrementare le competenze del ceto amministrativo locale rappresentato dalle donne libiche quale fattore propulsivo del ruolo delle municipalità nell'attività di mediazione sociale e di riconciliazione nazionale dal basso, promuovendo sviluppo economico, sociale, ambientale e una diffusa cultura democratica e di cittadinanza attiva in Libia.

The Project

The Project "Italy-Libya. Women as local administrators-Supporting and training actions for Libyan women engaged in local communities to improve territorial governance and to build democracy and development from the bottom up" is part of the initiatives by MAECI and other relevant Italian institutions aimed at increasing skills of the local administrative class. Libyan women represent a driving force for the role of municipalities in the activity of social mediation and national reconciliation from the bottom up, fostering economic, social, environmental development and a widespread democratic culture and active citizenship in Libya.
